WOULD TEACH BETTER MUSIC

STATE BEGINS RADIO CONTEST IN APPRECIATION.

PROGRAM EACH WEEK

Pupils of Both Rural and Town Schools Are Eligible to Compete. —Final Contest March 14.

A music appreciation contest by radio for the school children of Missouri, in which the schools of Nodaway county are urged to take part, has been announced by the state department of education, and pamphlets setting forth the rules were sent out this week to all schools by Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent.

The contest has been planned, the announcement of the state department says, to "meet a long felt need." Musical selections are being broadcast at 7:30 o'clock each Monday night from radio station WOS in preparation for the final contest, which will be held on March 14.

The contest is open to any student enrolled and attending any rural, elementary or high school in Missouri, including both public and private schools.

Eight or ten selections will be broadcast each Monday evening, and forty numbers will be included in the contest, divided into Group I and Group II. Group I should be studied by the children in the rural and elementary schools, while both Group I and Group II should be studied by the high school students.

Certificates Offered.

For the final contest twelve numbers will be selected, six from each group. All elementary and rural school students getting five correct out of the six selected from Group 1 in the final contest will receive a certificate of award from the state superintendent of schools. All high school students getting ten correct in the final contest out of the twelve selected will be given a similar certificate of award.

In the final contest no name will be given for the selection. It will be referred to by number. The state department recommends that each music teacher in the state make use of these selections during this school year for department also recommends that each high school in the state hold a local music appreciation contest sometime between March 1 and 4, and that each county superintendent organize and hold a county contest in some central place in the county some time between March 6 and 12. Each student will be required also to know something of the history of the selection. All music clubs and other organizations interested in music are urged to co-operate.

"This plan," the announcement by the department says, "was decided upon to stimulate a greater interest in music among school children and thereby teach them to love a good quality of music and be able to know and appreciate good music when they hear it.

"While many have studied music privately, yet it is well known music has not been taught very widely in our school system. Hence we have chosen selections adaptable to all pupils and students so all will compete in the same contest.

Music Natural to Children.

"Children express thmeselves naturally in music. Boys and girls sing, whistle and go through motions of playing all sorts of musical instruments. It is the kind of music they produce, or imagine they produce in which we are chiefly interested. They cannot render any music of a better quality than they have heard and always will ettempt to produce the kind of music which they have heard most.

"The only way poor music can be driven from society is to furnish universallly a better quality of music. When we have learned to appreciate this better quality of music no one will care to hear the selections of poorer music. It will be like hanging a beautiful and inspirational picture in our homes among cheaper and poorer pictures. Immediately our reaction would be to remove the poorer picture and is what we should likely do.

"Nothing will be broadcast in any of our programs except the selections children should known and can learn. They will not be difficult. That they are still being rendered to audiences throughout the country guarantees their stability."

The department doubts whether there really is anybody without an "ear for music" if given an opportunity for hearing it.

Can Be Heard on Any Set.

Pupils from homes without receiving sets, the department announces, can gather at homes where there are sets, or, if there are sets in school buildings, then the gathering may be there. If there are no receiving sets available, then the selections may be studied on any reproducing instrument in schools or homes.

"The department invites the people of Missouri to hear the programs with the children and we shall be delighted to know we had a part in entertaining the general public as well as conducting the contest," the announcement concludes.

READY FOR ROLL CALL

RED CROSS DRIVE WILL START EARLY NEXT MONTH.

WANT TO RAISE $1500

Glen Reece To Head Campaign For Funds Will Announce Chief Workers Next Week.

Supplies for use during the annual Red Cross roll call to be conducted by the Nodaway County chapter of the American Red Cross, starting next month, have been packed and some have already been delivered to township roll call chairmen. Glen Reece, chairman for the drive, has secured the aid of several men and women over the county to aid in the campaign and the names of all chairmen will be announced next week.

Last year the roll call was the means of procuring $1,040, most of which went for the upkeep of the county chapter. Only fifty cents on each membership taken goes into the national headquarters for use by that organization, Miss Betty Turner, executive secretary of the Nodaway County chapter pointed out. The balance of the funds is used by the chapter here.

Efforts will be made to procure $1,500 in the drive for funds this year. Although the county-wide campaign will not start until Nov. 11, a preliminary drive will be conducted at the State Teachers College Nov. 4. The reason for the funds being collected there at that time is that it will not interfere with plans anyone connected with the College may have towards attending the teachers' meeting in Kansas City early next month.

Miss Turner said today:

"Departments maintained by the Nodaway County chapter of the Red Cross include Home Service, Junior Red Cross, Production, Braille, Life Saving, and First Aid. The home service division of the chapter attends to the needs of ex-service men, junior Red Cross work is done in the schols, various persons aid in the production of needed clothing and articles, a group of women here transcribed book into Braille that the blind can read, many persons have taken advantage of the opportunity to learn how to swim and administer first aid.

"During the past year more than a million home visits in the interests of better health were made by the 798 American Red Cross Public Health nurses now operating in the United States, as part of their work of assisting t oimprove health conditions in this country, the annual report of the American Red Cross for the year ended June 30, 1926 showed.

"In the course of their duties these nurses made 1,174,539 visits to homes, while they also made inspections of 1, 175,128 children in schools, the report stated. Part of their work the past summer was to detect and assist in correction of physical defects in children due to enter school this year as a means of improving their chances of advancement in school.

"Assistance in the detection and prevention of epidemics, in the correction of defects in the physical make-up of school children, and extension of nursing facilities in various parts of the country were a part of their duties.

"The memberships are as follows; $1 for annual; $5 for contributing; $10 for sustaining; $25 for supporting; $50 for life; and $100 for patron. Cards and buttons will be given those taking out membership."

Former Residents Here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Crossan and children of Cheyenne, Wyo., are visiting friends in Maryville and vicinity for a few days. They are former residents of Nodaway County.

Kansas City, Oct. 23.—Ninety United States marines arrived in Kansas City today with heavy packs, sea bags, and orders to "shoot to kill" in the protection of the mails.

The "devil dogs," many of them with foreign service records in the World War, are under the command of Capt. J. B. Wilson. They arrived here on a special train.

The detachment was sent here following orders of Postmaster-General New and the commandant of the marine corps that the mails must be protected from bandits. A similar order was issued in 1921.

WILL RESUME FUND INQUIRY

SESSIONS TO BEGIN AT KANSAS CITY MONDAY.

WITNESSES CALLED

Senator Reed to Question Several in Connection With Alleged "Slush" in Indiana Politics.

Kansas City, Oct. 23.—Returning to Kansas City today, Senator James A. Reed announced the Senate campaign fund committee's inquiry into Ku Klux Klan activities in Indiana politics will be resumed Monday morning in his office here.

The Senator indicated he hoped to close the Indiana phase of the committee's investigation early in the week. If space is available in the federal building, the scene of the investigation may be moved there, he said.

Arriving at the Union station from Chicago, 7:15 o'clock this morning, the Senator went at once to his hotel rooms. He is to address a Democratic mass meeting at Convention Hall tonight.

Although questioning in Indianapolis yesterday of Senator James E. Watson netted denials that he had an understanding with the Ku Klux Klan for political aid, Senator Reed Monday will resume questioning of witnesses he believes may throw some additional light on the subject.

Witnesses summoned to appear before the investigation committee Monday include Mrs. Vivian Tracy Wheatcraft, who organized a women's committee in Indiana for Senator Watson in the recent primary; Frederick J. Libby of New York, who spoke in the Indiana campaign, and the Rev. Joseph Myers, jr., former secretary of the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association in Indiana. The Rev. Mr. Myers now lives in Kansas City and is an assistant pastor at Linwood Christian Church. He today reiterated his willingness to tell the committee all he knows about the operations of the association. He said there was little he could tell, however, that will interest Senator Reed.

Seattle, Oct. 23.—Senator Charles McNary of Oregon today opened the Senate slush fund committee's inquiry into the political expenditures of Scott Bullitt, Democratic Senatorial candidate.

The probe is the result of the allegations by Sam R. Summer, Republican state chairman, that excessive expenditures have been made in Bullitt's behalf.

Minority Congress to Make Laws for U. S.

Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin Calls Attention to Laxity of Citizens in Voting for Candidates.

Washington, Oct. 23.—A minority Congress will make the laws for the United States during the next two years, Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin declared today.

"Undoubtedly the members of Congress elected on November 2 will represent the choice of less than one-half the qualified voters of the country," he said. "Unless there is a distinct change in sentiment, which is not now apparent, I do not expect the total will be more than 50 per cent of those who have the right to vote."

Characterizing this laxity of voters as a national disgrace, Senator Lenroot announced his intention of pleading for a full vote irrespective of party affiliations in a speaking tour he is opening today.

The chief remedy for the situation, nationally, he said, is a campaign of education of voters to a realization of their responsibility.

M. U. Tigers Lead Ames Eleven 7 to 3

(By Radio).

Coming from behind, the Missouri Tigers were leading the Ames eleven 7 to 3 at the end of the first half of their game at Ames this afternoon. The game was being played on a muddy field.

Thomas of Ames made a beautiful place kick from the thirty-two yard line in the first quarter, making the score: Ames, 3; Missouri, 0. A short time later, the Tigers started a drive down the field, made two successive first downs, and a pass, Stuber to Clark, was good for about forty yards and a touchdown. Stuber kicked goal, making the score: Missouri, 7; Ames, 3.

Missouri made four first downs in the first half and made good on four out of six passes for a total gain of 108 guards.

Says War Debts Now Up to Governments

Individuals of Both Countries Should Keep Hands Off, Ambassador to France Advises Citizens.

New York, Oct. 23.—The time for individual dickering with the Franco-American debt settlement is past. It is now a matter between the two governments and private citizens should keep hands off.

This was the parting advice to individuals of both countries today from Myron T. Herrick, American ambassador to France, as he sailed on the Paris to resume his post after a vacation. Herrick was inclined to view optimistically the state of affairs in Europe now that France and Germany have reached an accord.

William Phillips, American ambassador to Belgium, also sailed today to return to his post after a vacation in America.

RUNS AGAIN IN WYOMING

MRS. NELLIE ROSS, DEMOCRAT, HOPES FOR RE-ELECTION.

ANOTHER WANTS CHAIR

Frank C. Emerson, Republican, Has Eyes On Office Of Governor And Is On Stumping Tour.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 23.—With two weeks intervening before Wyoming votors go to the polls to determine whether a woman is to continue as chief executive of the state, indications are that it will be a close election.

Nellie Taylor Ross, who was unanimously nominated in August as the Democratic candidate to succeed herself as governor, has carried on an active campaign dating back several weeks.

Frank C. Emerson of Worland, Republican gubernatorial candidate, has carried on a stumping tour equally as active as that of his woman opponent.

Governor Ross appears to be confident of re-election and anticipates a majority approximately that given her two years ago when she defeated her Republican opponent by more than 8,000 votes.

The woman executive is seeking re-election on her record claiming for herself viligance in the enforcement of law, economy and efficiency in government and opposition to special privileges of every character.

Observers in that state say Governor Ross will not receive the support of Wyoming women to the extent she did in her former election.

The Wyoming governor is elected for a term of four years. Governor Ross was elected two years ago at a special election to fill the vacancy made by the death of her husband.

Emerson is making his campaign of an affirmed policy of economic development of Wyoming's natural resources, wiping out the growing deficit of the general fund, better educational facilities, improved roads and industrial advancement. Emerson for several years has been state engineer.

The campaign in Wyoming to date has been conducted without bitterness or mud-slinging. Principal interest in the state centers around the office of governor, since both the United States senators hold over. Congressman Charles E. Winter, Wyoming's only representative in the national house, is running for re-election against Thomas M. Fegan of Lusk, Democrat.

Wyoming is generally considered a Republican state, but Democratic nominees for governor have been successfull in five elections out of twelve.

Specialist Is Called to Attend Queen Marie

Rumanian Ruler Still Troubled By Cold—Failure To Broadcast Last Night Due to Misunderstanding.

New York, Oct. 23.—A throat specialist was called today to attend Queen Marie of Rumania in her suite at the Hotel Ambassador. The queen has been suffering from a cold for the last few days and it is believed that a long speech last night at a dinner tendered in her honor by the iron and steel club has aggravated the condition of her throat.

The specialist was called shortly after the queen arose at 7 o'clock this morning. The queen did not retire until after 3 o'clock this morning and had her breakfast in bed. She is scheduled to attend a luncheon today at the Colony Club, an exclusive women's organization.

Through her lady in waiting, the queen today voiced an apology for being forced to disappoint millions of persons all over the country last night who had confidently expected to hear her voice by radio. The failure to broadcast, the queen graciously explained, was due to a misunderstanding.

Body of Unidentified Man Is Found at K. C.

Kansas City, Oct. 23.—The body of an unidentified white man, shot through the heart, was found early today in an alley between Main and Walnut streets, immediately north of Third street. The murderers apparently had robbed their victim at some other point in the city, slain him, and dragged his body within a block of police headquarters. A special officer stumbled over the body as he was making his rounds early this morning. The condition of the man's clothing indicated he was not a derelict. The coroner said the man had been dead several hours when found.

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

RED CROSS NOTES.

Following reports from the State Department that cyclones and heavy rains have caused serious damage to property and crops in the environs of Nogales, Sonora, and Vera Cruz, Mexico, the American Red Cross today transmitted to the Mexican Red Cross $5,000 to be used in extending relief.

A report from the American Consul at Nogales, stated that torrential rains had occurred September 26 and 27 and that assistance was urgently needed for the population in the district affected. While there was little loss of life, economic losses were reported great and food supplies were needed, the Consul declared.

A New York night club charged $1 for a glass of milk. They ought to be able to keep the cows contented that way.

G. W. Golay and family moved the latter part of last week from the J. L. Neal property in the south part of town to a place near Skidmore.

Mrs. Agnes Lunte and daughters, Misses Hulda and Ruth, visited last Sunday in Bedford with Mrs. Elmer Hatfield, a sister of Mrs. Lunte.

John Bosch returned Wednesday from Columbia, Mo., where he had been attending a conference of County Secretaries of the M. F. A.

There were about forty-five counties represented in the conference and plans for increasing the organization were discussed.

Ed McKee and family are moving this week from the Wm. Boyd property, near the Christian Church, to the J. L. Neal property in the south part of town, which was recently vacated by G. W. Golay.

W. R. Pierson, sr., of Enid, Okla., returned to his home Tuesday after a month's visit with relatives and friends here. His niece, Mrs. J. B. Loch, sr., accompanied him as far as St. Joseph on his trip homeward.

Frank Craig, a former resident of this place, now residing at Mound City, Mo., has, with his family, been visiting here for the past week at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. S. Garten and Mrs. Garten.

G. H. Westfall has moved the remnant of his stock of merchandise here from Maryville and has secured the McMillen building in which to put on a closing out sale to dispose of the remainder of the stock. He is advertising some bargain prices to help in moving this merchandise quickly.

Political candidates have been canvassing this community pretty frequently of late and some of them are getting pretty nervous over the situation. As a rule they are having a hard time in creating much enthusiasm among the voters.

The funeral of J. J. Van Buren on Tuesday was largely attended, not only by the people of this community but by a number from Hopkins, Maryville and other parts of the county. Mr. Van Buren had a wide acquaintance, as he had resided in or near Pickering practically all his life and in point of years of residence was one of the oldest citizens of the community. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. T. M. Walton, assisted by the Rev. H. A. Doughty. Interment was in the Coleman cemetery west of town.

Rural mail route No. 3 from Hopkins has recently been extended about four miles, which will accommodate fourteen families by bringing the mail to their door instead of having to go from one-fourth of a mile to over a mile for it, as has been done by those families. The extension begins near Xenia school house, goes west to the state highway, then south to the road leading east from Pickering, then east to the corner near White Oak cemetery, then north to original route near the J. W. Smith residence. Service on this extension will begin next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Saunders entertained at dinner last Sunday at their home northwest of town, their guests being Mrs. Nancy Craven, Mrs. Adeline Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fakes, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Null, all of Pickering vicinity and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Holbrook and two daughters of near Clearmont.

The past week has been more favorable for farm work, and farmers are quite busy getting things in shape for winter. Several farmers are sowing wheat although the ground is still too wet to work well in many fields. Corn husking will be commenced next week on a number of farms, though it will not be pushed much before November 1st.

Praise for V. F. W.

Maryville, Mo.,

Editor Democrat-Forum and Tribune:—Just a few lines I wish you would publish in your paper, which is fair and square in all dealings. I am a disabled Veteran of the World War, wounded three times, had papers to show, was stranded here with two children and a wife needing help very badly. The only organization which helped me was the Veterans of Foreign Wars, especially the commander, Roy Mayes and Ex-Commander Jack Pennington.

The Vets are boys who have a small membership but always there when a poor ex-buddy is stranded. They are the only one, like the Salvation Army overseas, to give you a helping hand, no red tape, just your discharge papers and oversea service. Oversea men, V of F Wars, stick to your organization, especially your post, the pride of the state of Missouri, all good Soldiers in the late War and the Spanish American.

Please, Editor, publish this for the good of the Town, the County and the great State. Furthermore I like to have a lady to read this who turned a man down with children, a man who fought for her, that she may do good some day for the Soldiers who really fought her battle. May God bless her and forgive her and some day someone may take her place and correct those mistakes.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars are giving me transportation and expenses for four people.

Thank you in advance,

Fifty Years Ago

(Taken from the Nodaway Democrat, Oct. 19, 1876.)

The St. Louis Republican has the following to say regarding the completion of the Chillicothe and Omaha railroad, which is now built to a point forty miles southeast of Maryville, and will probably pass through this place when completed: "A railroad company has just been organized to build a line of road from Council Bluffs, Ia., to Pattonsburg, Mo., there to connect with the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Railroad. With this road built, St. Louis, for a Council Bluffs market, will be ninety-six miles nearer than Chicago, and a large amount of grain now being shipped to Chicago will be sent to St. Louis. It will be seventy-four miles shorter than the present route via Kansas City and St. Joseph. With this road built, St. Louis and lines east can successfully compete for business from the Union Pacific Railroad. Opening up, as this road will, a large grain and stock trade, it is of great importance that it should be speedily built."

Elder Hink requests us to state that there will be a two-day meeting of the Advent Christian denomination at their chapel in this city beginning on the 28th.

The City Company has donated a lot on Third street, just west of the Valley House, to Mr. Armstrong of Liberty, who has been engaged in the foundry and machine shop business at that place for a number of years. Mr. Armstrong will erect a frame building on his lot and move his machinery to Maryville in about a month.

The Rev. G. W. Browning of Hopkins will preach in Pickering on Sunday evening, November 5, at early candle light.

James Machamer will open up a barber shop in the Central Hotel on the 26th of this month.

Peter Morgan has leased the Red Front Restaurant.

The Main street front of the Nodaway Valley Bank building is being greatly improved.

John A. Smith has taken as a partner in the clothing business, J. J. Bean of Savannah.

Hints and Helps for Farmers

by J. Ross Fleetwood County Extension Agent

From present indications it would seem that arrangements should be made to breed sows for spring pigs as soon as possible. Sows bred around November 1 will farrow around March 1. This will ordinarily be late enough to raise pigs without too much trouble and will allow seven months of feeding before October 1. With good clean, healthy pigs, well fed on pasture, the average farmer can have 200 to 225 pound pigs in that time. Pigs which hit the market later than October 1 in 1927 are likely to sell on a declining market. Now is the time to insure an early pig crop.

Judging from the number of farmers who are sowing wheat now, Nodaway county will have nearly a normal acreage of wheat this time. Of course it is somewhat of a gamble as to the prospects for wheat sown this late, still the chances are pretty good for any sown during October. The ground is already prepared and if the crop fails the ground can be put to either oats or corn next spring and only the seed and labor of sowing will be lost.

Four concrete septic tanks have been built, according to plans furnished by the Missouri College of Agriculture, by Nodaway county farmers this summer and fall. Anyone who is interested in a septic tank can get information as to cost of installing operation and satisfaction rendered by asking one of the following: Elmer Froyd, Conception Junction, Ernest Wray, R. M. New or Virgil Rathbun, Maryville. I am sure these men will be glad to give any information they can to anyone interested.

Inquiries are received concerning the white diarrhea test for poultry. I think no answer to the practical value of a thing is as convincing a positive experience with the positive in question. O. W. Keever of Parnell, had a flock of around 400 hens which were tested last fall. All the reactors were sold and all hatching eggs were saved from hens which did not react. Mr. Keever now has a little over three hundred pullets out of six hundred fifty baby chicks hatched last spring. Allowing for the average number of cockerels, it isn't hard to see that there couldn't have been much white diarrhea in those chicks. While Mr. Keever's flocks have never been troubled very much with this disease, he nevertheless feels that his efforts to stamp out the disease were entirely worth the cost.

Since this test, like the tuberculin test, is not a positive one it should be carried on year after year until the flock tests free two years in succession. After that the flock can safely be considered practically free from this disease. Flocks which are known to be infested really should be tested if best results are to be secured. This work is best carried on through your local veterinarian. Due to a lack of funds the state laboratories aren't able to offer this service as they have in former years.

Experiments have shown that pigs allowed to run to tankage in a self-feeder, while hogging down corn will make around one pound of pork for each pound of tankage eaten. That is, they will gain one pound of pork for each pound of tankage eaten, more than will hogs not allowed tankage with tankage at $3.75 per hundred and pork at $12.00 per hundred, it's a pretty good "swap." Hogs in the cornfield with tankage will make one hundred pounds gain on about 6 bushels corn and 35 pounds tankage, while without tankage about 12-14 bushels of corn will be required per one hundred of gain. With corn at 75c per bushel and tankage at $75.00 per ton, figure it out for yourself.

The Northwest Missouri Poultry Breeders Association held a meeting of its board of directors today to make final plans for the poultry show the first of December. I feel that this association is worthy of the support of every wide awake poultry man or woman in the county. The association not only promotes a show and an educational program but also provides a medium or organization to represent the best poultry interests of the county. It is always easy to stand off and tell some one else how to run a thing or criticise that person for what they are doing, but you may be surprised to find how much more fun it is to help push the thing along. Furthermore if the association isn't just what you would like it to be, a mighty good way to make it that way is to get in and make it right.

New Books at Library Include Several of the "Best Sellers"

A number of new books, several of them listed among current "best sellers," were placed upon the shelves of the Public Library this week. Several new volumes for children also have been received.

First among the new books for adults, both in popularity and in audacity, is "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," an illuminating discourse by Anita Loos. Much talked of for several months past, the book was somewhat slow to find its way to the local library. It was snatched from the penny-a-day shelf almost as soon as it was put there, and there is a waiting list as long as one's arm.

A close second in popular demand is Edna Ferber's "Show Boat," a novel which caused Miss Ferber to be sued recently by Tom Taggart of Indiana, statesman or political boss depending upon one's point of view.

Despite its length (two volumes) "An American Tragedy" by Theodore Dreiser, is another work frequently called for here. Still others high in popular favor are "Beau Geste" and "Beau Sabreus," by Christopher Wren; "Mannequin," by Fannie Hurst, the $20,000 prize novel of Liberty magazine; "The Silver Spoon," by John Galsworthy, recently in Scribner's; "The Private Life of Helen of Troy," by John Erskine;

"The Understanding Heart," by Peter B. Kyne; "Mantrap," by Sinclair Lewis; and "Black Hunter," historical novel by J. Oliver Curwood.

The other new books received, not quite so well known, are "The Blue Window," by Temple Bailey; "Afternoon," by Susan Ertz; "Bellarian," by Raphael Sabatini; "Her Son's Wife," by Dorothy Canfield; "The Painted Room," by Margaret Wilson; "Tomorrow's Tangle," by Margaret Pedler; "The Pearl Thief," by Berta Ruck; "Prodigals of Monte Carlo," by E. Phillips Oppenheim; "Not Afraid," by Dane Coolidge; "Pine Creek Ranch," by Harold Bindloss; and last but by no means least, a highly amusing tale by Donald Ogden Stewart, "Mr. and Mrs. Haddock in Paris, France."

The children also have their share of the new books, including "Skittercat," by Eleanor Youmans; "No School Tomorrow," by Margaret E. Ashmun; "Picture Folk-Tales," by Valery Garrick; "Prydehurst," by Hammel Johnson; "Island Farm," by Hildegrade Hawthorne; "Winter at Cloverfield Farms,'," by Helen Fuller Orton; and a new edition of that perpetual favorite, "The Swiss Family Robinson," by John David Wyss.

Attempt to Uncover Stephenson's Evidence

Friends of Former Indiana Klan Leader Gather In His Cell for An Unsuccessful Conference.

Michigan City, Ind., Oct. 23.—The cell of D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, became an inquisitorial chamber today. Those who have been fighting for him and who have been broadcasting his charges linking high officials of the state in a million-dollar web of graft exerted every effort to draw from him the secret of the location of evidence which he has maintained will prove his charges.

A brief interview in his cell arranged by the state was almost in the nature of a forlorn hope. The inquiry into Stephenson's charges is nearly at a standstill because documentary evidence cannot be found to substantiate the charges.

The inquisitorial body was composed of Thomas H. Adams, publisher and head of the Independent Editorial probe committee; Counter Asher, lieutenant of Stephenson; Thomas V. Miller, attorney for Stephenson, and Will O. Fendner, an associate of Mr. Adams.

Pickering Loses One.

The Burlington Junction quintet took a fall out of the fast-stepping Pickering five in a game played last night on Burlington Junction's indoor court. The score was 22-16.

This was not a regularly scheduled contest and did not count in the outdoor race. Pickering was scheduled to play with Conception Junction, but that team forfeited. Burlington Junction was paired with Clearmont, but this school has not played any of it games. As the outdoor schedule did not bring Burlington Junction and Pickering together, the officials of the two schools took advantage of the opportunity to match the two good teams. The box score follows:

In last week's outdoor schedule, disrupted by the teachers' meeting, the Burlington Junction boys defeated Skidmore, 57-2, but the Skidmore girls won their game, 12-6.

Next Saturday Burlington will enter an invitation tournament at Forteseue, in which nine teams will participate.

Ravenwood Wins Close One.

REPORTS ON P. T. A. MEET

MRS. F. A. BUSH TELLS OF STATE CONVENTION.

FOR BETTER PARENTS

Prominent Speakers Are Quoted on Present-Day Challenge.—Room 5B Wins Pennant.

Educated parenthood was the keynote of the state convention of the Missouri branch of the National Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations, according to a report given at Thursday's meeting of the Maryville P. T. A. Council by Mrs. F. A. Bush, who was a delegate to the convention.

Summing up the convention, Mrs. Bush quoted Mrs. W. A. Masters of St. Joseph, state president, as saying: "We have had no sugar coated pills handed out to us here. The challenge is to the parents for better future citizens."

Resolutions adopted by the convention urge peace, a federal department of education, the curbing of salacious magazines and moving pictures, and defeat of Proposal No. 4 at the November election.

Mrs. Bush displayed a scrapbook containing all clippings from the Jefferson City newspapers regarding the convention, notes and favors from banquets, breakfasts and luncheons, and notes from addresses.

Among the notable speakers she listed Governor Sam A. Baker; Charles A. Lee, state superintendent of schools; Mrs. Masters, state P. T. A. president; Mrs. William Ullman, national vice-president; Mrs. Paul Johnstone; Mrs. Paul F. Cope; Miss Jessie Burrall; Dr. Henry Neuman of New York; and Rabbi August of St. Joseph. She gave significant quotations as follows:

Chas. A. Lee: "The most important teacher is the primary teacher. Grade teachers should be as well qualified as high school teachers and paid accordingly."

Mrs. Paul F. Cope, speaking concerning better films: "Get acquainted with the exhibitors and the films. A list of approved pictures is given in the Child Welfare Magazine each month. Parents should attend the pictures with their children and not send them alone to the theatre to be cared for while they themselves are at social engagements."

Dr. Neuman, a member of the Brooklyn Society of Ethical culture of New York, speaking on "Educating Our Youth for the Great Needs of Today", said: "Education is most likely to fail when the teacher has too great a load. In most schools there are too many children in a class and the only way that this condition can be remedied is by the employing of more teachers. More teachers, of course, mean more buildings and a higher tax rate. The same men who would spend as much as $100 for a seat at the Tunney-Dempsey fight would preach poverty and hard times to anyone who would even suggest a tax increase for this purpose."

Thursday's meeting was held at 3 p. m. in the High School auditorium and 69 members were present. The pennant offered to the pupils having the greatest percentage of parents present was won by Room 5B, taught by Miss Anna Mae Holt, with 40 per cent.

During the business session Mrs. Hugh Strong spoke concerning the Missouri P. T. A. Bulletin and the Child Welfare Magazine. All wishing to subscribe are to call Mrs. Strong.

Carl LeRoy Fisher gave two xylophone numbers, "Missouri Waltz" and a popular number, "Sweetheart Mine."

The P. T. A. song was followed by prayer by the Rev. R. A. Mitchell, who also spoke in opposition to proposition No. 4.

Indian School Kids Solve This Weighty Problem. Can You?

Glacier Park, Mont.—Somebody presented Chief Owen Heavy Breast of the Glacier National Park reservation with a drop-a-penny-in-the-slot scale. After hauling the scale out to his ranch 30 miles from the railway station Owen discovered that he had only one copper coin in his purse. He and his squaw wanted to get weighed "for fun" so they both decided to get on the scale at the same time. The pointing hand on the dial of the scale swung rapidly around to 390. Owen, of course, knowing his own weight and that of his wife and papoose, took a pencil and figured that his wife weighs 30 pounds more than the combined weight of himself and his papoose. The papoose he found, after much figuring, weighs exactly 87 and ½ percent less than his father.

Chief Heavy Breast had some education at the agency school where he developed into quite a wizard at figures. He was so impressed with what learning he secured from the agency teacher that when he grew up he founded the first free rural school for Indian children on the Glacier Park reservation.

The foregoing figures he produced after this first humorous experience with his new household scale, thinking it would be a novel problem in arithmatic for the 27 Indian pupils who attend his log school house in the foothills of the Rockies. These copper-colored boys and girls are now chewing their lead pencils and scratching their heads in a desperate contest to see which will be the first to find out the exact weight of each member of the Heavy Breast family.

The same "example" has been sent to one of the Montana rural schools that is attended exclusively by white boys and girls and a check will be made on results to get a comparative idea of the intelligence of the pale face and Indian school children. Chief Heavy Breast says it would be interesting to find out just how quickly the boys and girls of the big city schools could give the correct weight of himself, his wife and son.

LA BELLE NEWS.

The school is preparing a program to be given Friday before Hallowe'en. This is our first public program for the year and will be strictly a Hallowe'en program. Games and refreshments will follow the program:

The pupils enjoyed their vacation the past week. Several of them went nutting.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Eckstein are enjoying a fine new radio set.

Claude Anderson and family were visitors at the home of Edward Depriest.

Mrs. Letch Horton left Monday for Montana where she will join her husband, who has been there for sometime.

Thursday evening the first community meeting this year was held. The Farm Club was in charge. The principal event was a talk on Amendment Number Four by Miss Fannie Hope of Maryville. Her explanation was timely and interesting to all of us. A business session of the club was held, after which refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, pie, and coffee were served. Over fifty were present. The next meeting of the club will be held the Thursday before Thanksgiving.

The school has kept a "Tooth Chart Record" for a month. Margaret Neale Lawson and Bennie Poe won tooth brushes for having the greatest number of gold stars. A similar chart will be started Monday.

The past week we have had perfect attendance and no tardies. We consider this a very good achievement since our enrollment is so large.

PARNELL H. S. TEAMS ACTIVE

BOYS AND GIRLS OPEN SEASON NOVEMBER 5.

TO PLAY RAVENWOOD

School Will Present Three-Act Play, "Her Uncle's Niece," Nov. 19 and 20.

Basketball practice commenced this week at Parnell with two large squads out for places on the teams. Seventeen girls and twenty-two boys reported to Coach Nelson for the initial practice.

The strength of the girls team, which has been a tartar to neighboring teams for several years, will be a question until the season gets under way and they give a demonstration of their ability. Five of last years players will not be seen in the first game against Ravenwood, November 5, at Parnell. Three players were lost by graduation, one is not in school and another is out with a fractured arm. The team will be built around Prather, running center for three years, and L. Cox, a two-year forward. The former was chosen on the mythical all-county team the last two years, and is regarded by many as the fastest running center in Northwest Missouri.

Prospects for a winning boys team are good, as only one player of last year is not in school. Several good looking prospects have reported and the scramble for places on the team is gathering momentum from one practice to the next.

Both Parnell teams will open the season at home November 5 with Ravenwood furnishing the opposition.

The mixed chorus from the high school supplied several numbers at a community meeting held at the Methodist church in Parnell Thursday evening. This meeting was a get-acquainted meeting in honor of the Rev. B. D. McKowan, who recently moved here.

The high school is practicing on the play "Her Uncles Niece," a three-act comedy which will be presented November 19-20. Miss Stackhouse, English instructor has charge of dramatics.

Logan and Mt. Everett (rural) schools of the Parnell Consolidated district held box and pie socials Wednesday and Friday nights respectively.

Successful Meeting Held at Bunker Hill

Patrons Furnish a Stringed Orcehstra, Pupils Give Program at School Near Parnell.

More than 100 persons attended a community meeting held Tuesday night at Bunker Hill school, four miles northwest of Parnell and in the Parnell consolidated district. A feature of the entertainment was a stringed orchestra furnished by the patrons, and the pupils gave a program, after which the women of the community served refreshments.

The program of the pupils was as follows:

Song—"Hallowe'en on Hallowe'en"—by all.

Recitation—"When I Was a Little Boy"—Fay Bloomfield.

Recitation—"If"—Elsie Porch

Recitation—"Wash Day"—Frances Bloomfield.

Recitation—"My Gypsy Heart"—Dorothy Porch.

Song—"Choo-choo-choo" — Second Grade Boys.

Recitation—"Hallowe'en" — Jessie Dakes.

Dialogue—"The Lost Pocketbook"—A B and C classes.

GAYNOR ECHOES

The interior of our schoolhouse was painted during our vacation.

Olin and Densel Cooper were absent Tuesday.

The Gaynor Basketball boys lost a game to the Harmony boys last Tuesday, the score being 24 to 18.

The grade room enjoyed a "popcorn feast" at the last recess Tuesday. They had popped the corn to sell at the games between Ravenwood and Gaynor. Because of three other games this week Ravenwood cancelled the game.

The "A" reading class have finished reading "The Vision of Sir Launfal" by James Russell Lowell.

Melva Freeman of the "A" class has read and reported on all her outside reading books.

The high school received a new desk and chair last week.

Edward Grimmitt enrolled in high school last Monday.

The VANITY CASE

by Carolyn Wells

NEA FICTION

© 1926 by G. P. PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

MRS. PRENTISS sees lights mysteriously appear and disappear in the HEATH household next door one night and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog with the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, vivacious, golden-haired, to whom suspicion points because of her refusal to answer questions.

Myra Heath was peculiar: She never used cosmetics, never wore colors. She had a mania for collecting glass, and it was a rare old whisky bottle from her collection that the murderer used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet and nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath." Strangest of all, she was heavily made up and garbed in gay colors.

The peculiar thing about Heath's disappearance is that all the windows and doors had been locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning. Finger prints of Bunny Moore and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club the murder is iscussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others. Some believe Heath the murderer. Anderson disagrees. TODHUNTER BUCK, nephew of Mrs. Prentiss and in love with Bunny, suggests to Cunningham that Heath also may have been murdered.

EMMA, a waitress in the Heath home, tells of Seeing Bunny ascend the stairs about the time of the murder, carrying her vanity case. Later Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Perry Heath telling her Inman is guilty. Bunny breaks down and faints under a grilling by DETECTIVE MOTT, who makes up his mind that she is guilty. Inman confides to Buck that he saw Bunny creeping the stairs after the murder, and Mott, questions all the servants and tells them to keep silent.

Cunningham gets a note from Anderson and goes to his house where Perry Heath suddenly appears out of the night and begins to talk.

Anderson invites Cunningham to his house and there, while waiting for his host, Cunningham is suddenly confronted by Perry Heath, who disappears as mysteriously as he had appeared. Shortly afterward, Anderson comes in, and he reproaches Cunningham for letting Heath get away.

TODHUNTER BUCK, who is in love with Bunny, is a witness to a nocturnal meeting between the girl and Heath. He tries to get Bunny to explain and when she refuses he calls in his friend, STEVE TRUITT, a famous detective. Bunny tells Truitt she had gone downstairs the night of the murder and seen Myra Heath, not yet cold in death, and Inman peeping from behind a curtain.

Truitt questions Inman and then, inspecting the Heath home, discovers something peculiar about a window. He then rejoins Buck and the latter's aunt, MRS. PRENTISS.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XLIV.

"I found practically nothing of importance," Truitt said, then, seeing blank look of disappointment, he added, "except Mr. Inman himself. He wouldn't admit he had seen you that night, Miss Bunny, until I told him that you had told me of it yourself. Then he loosened up a little, but he still feared a trap. However, he did admit he went downstairs almost immediately after you came up, and said he went down to see what scared you so."

"H'm," said Mrs. Prentiss, "a little fishy. But, see here, Mr. Truitt, that checks up the lights. You know the place was dark as a pocket at one o'clock. Then, Bunny comes down at half past one, snaps on a bright light, and about fifteen minutes turns it out and goes upstairs. Then, 'long about two, Mr. Inman comes down. Big light again, and soon he snaps it off and goes upstairs. Then, no more lights all night."

"Except the two small sparks—"

"Yes—those the murderer put there—"

"The murder being?"

"Inman!" exclaimed Tod. "You must have seen, Steve, how queer he was, how, you know—furtive, and that sort of thing. Sly, uncommunicative, until he concluded to say something, then his words came out in a perfect sluice."

"Not much of a psychologist, are you, Tod?" and Truitt smiled at hom.

"Oh, get out. I know what I know. I know the thing rests between Bunny and Inman. I know—you know, Bunny did't do it, therefore, and wherefore, it was Inman."

"Going to take me over to the club tonight, Tod?"

And as Toddy agreed, the whole subject was dropped by common consent, and one of Mrs. Prentiss' justly famed dinners were enjoyed with no accompanying talk of horrors.

But after dinner, Cunningham telephoned that they were to come over to Sam Anderson's house instead of to the club, as he had invited a few chums there for billiards, and didn't want to go out.

So over they went, Truitt admiring as they walked briskly along, the bridge, the brook it crossed and the delightful, though different landscape on either side.

Sam Anderson was polite, even cordial, but it was plain to be seen that, as he was expecting guests, he must want them to make their visit brief.

Cunningham was the embarrassed one, for he had brought about this interview with no reason but a hope that it might be helpful to himself, and it was a little difficult to explain.

"I—I wanted you men to meet Mr. Truitt," he began a little lamely, but Tod Buck threw himself into the breach.

"It's all right, Mr. Anderson," he smiled; "we won't stay but a few minutes. I know you've got a party on. But to come down to brass tacks, I'm told that you Park people suspect Miss Moore of the Heath crime, and I'm asking you if you have any real, any definite evidence against her. And, if you haven't, if you won't—you, Mr. Anderson, as one of the most influential Park men—if you won't do what you can to squash that rumor—or suspicion, or whatever you call it."

"My dear boy," Sam Anderson smiled at him, "you're barking up the wrong tree! I haven't the slightest suspicion that Miss Moore did or could commit that terrible crime! Why, the mere idea is inconceiveable. And I've said so every time I have been where the thing was discussed."

"Good for you, Mr. Anderson!" and Tod wrung his hand. "I suppose not all the Park people think alike then."

"Whom do you suspect, Mr. Anderson?" Truitt asked, feeling that the time might be short, and he must learn all he could quickly.

"Why, I'm not sure I ought to voice a suspicion, and yet, if it's to help save the name and fame of a fair lady— of a young girl, I suppose I need not hesitate. I am quite willing to put it on record that such evidence as has been rehearsed in my hearing, leads me to think that the criminal was Mr. Inman. I may be wrong. I can only say he seems to me the most likely suspect, as far as I can see."

"You don't think, then," Truitt went on, "it could have been the injured husband? You don't think Perry Heath did it?"

"How did he make a getaway afterward? I understand the house was locked up like a bank."

Anderson seemed willing to talk, at least, until his guests arrived, so Truitt kept him at it.

"Yes, I hear it was. But why would Mr. Inman kill the woman he loved?"

"Do you remember a line of a famous poem, Mr. Truitt? It runs:

"'For each man kills the thing he loves.'

Not entirely true, of course, but a man might do that from jealousy, or unrequited love. And, too, Mr. Inman is the heir. Oh, I don't know, of course, but he seems to me a far more likely suspect than Heath. I've heard the Heaths were married for several years, and though as a bachelor such things are outside of my line, I don't think the average man is jealous enough to murder his wife after they have lived together as long as that."

"That's so," Truitt agreed, and then Sam Anderson's guests began to arrive and the callers left.

From Tod, from Bunny, from Mrs. Prentiss, and even calling in one or two of the servants, it seemed Steve Truitt would never cease his endless firing of queries.

On all sorts of subpects, seemingly with all sorts of objects, but all more or less connected with the Heaths or with other of the Harbor people.

At last, he went off by himself and smoked a cigar in silence and solitude.

He returned, smiling and debonair. And made himself so entertaining and agreeable, that he seemed no more a prosaic detective, but a gay and jolly chum of Tod's.

But after Mrs. Prentiss and Bunny had gone to bed, Truitt turned to Tod with with a serious face.

"Old man," he said, "that woman was killed by either her husband or her cousin."

"Right, oh, oracle! I'm glad you see it that way."

"Heath, you know, is still in the neighborhood."

"Was last night."

"Is still. And tonight, my laddie, he will visit the house next door."

"Important, if true."

"Yes, that's just it. Maybe he won't. But I think—I strongly believe he will."

"Do you happen to know what he will come for?"

"I do. He will come to get a book out of the—is there a library?"

"No, books are in the studio."

"All right, then. He'll come to get a book out of the studio. Shall we conceal ourselves behind the arras, and nab him when he arrives?"

"I was awake most of last night—"

"Oh, puddinghead! Stay at home, then, I'll go alone, or, better yet, I'll get your aunt to go with he. I must have a witness."

"Of course I'll go. If I fall asleep you can punch me when he comes."

Admitting to himself, but not to Tod, that it might be a wild goose chase, Truitt led the way and followed by his friend, went silently across the lawns to the Heath house.

"Sit there," he whispered, pointing to a lawn settee, "and don't move till I tell you."

Tod did so, and ten minutes later, Truitt came to him and pogged his elbow. "All set," he whispered.

To Tod's amazement, one of the French windows in the studio was open.

"How'd you do that?" he excaimed, but Steve only said, "Hush!" and pushed him inside.

WHITE AREAS IN SKIN MAY BE STAINED

Cause of Leucodermia Is Unknown and It Cannot Be Cured, But Experts Do Not Regard It as Dangerous to Health.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator From New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Once in a while you meet a person who has a striking appearance because of a white lock running through a shock of otherwise perfectly black hair. Or there may be several snow-white spots in a head of otherwise dark hair.

You may have observed a person with spots of milky whiteness on the hands or arms. These spots are like great freckles, but instead of being brown against the white skin they are white against the normal skin covering the rest of the hands.

Such spots, of varying shapes and sizes, may be found on any part of the body. The hands, face, neck and arms are most commonly affected, but they may come anywhere.

Not only is the skin affected, showing a white or ivory surface, but even the minute hairs on these spots are without coloring matter. The hairs are not gray, but are absolutely white.

All these manifestations, whether in the skin or in the hair of the head, are described by the word "Leucodermia." The term means "white skin." Another name given the condition is "Vitiligo."

This ailment is not common in white people. It is more frequently found in the dark races. Severe nervous shock is thought to bear a relationship to its development. In most cases it seems impossible to trace the cause.

The condition is interesting by reason of its novelty and its freakish appearance. There has been described one instance where a colored man turned perfectly white through the widespread effects of Vitiligo.

This ailment has no relation to the general health. Striking as it seems, it has no importance except from the cosmetic standpoint. It is annoying, especially to women, in whom it is more common than in men.

In the present stage of our knowledge of medicine there is nothing to be done for Vitiligo. If the spots are very conspicious, as they are likely to be in the Summer time when the rest of the skin is deeply tanned, they may be stained to lesson their prominence. For this purpose weak walnut juice may be used. You will recall how you used to stain your hands in "shucking" black walnuts. Carefully applied, this juice will temporarily hide the blemish of Vitiligo. Another stain which may be used is a solution of permanganate of potash. Either of these applications is harmless.

When we know more about the nervous system and about the "ductless glands," we will know more about a lot of diseases which are more or less mysterious at present.

There is no need to be disturbed about Vitiligo. It may look bad, but it will have no effect upon your general health unless you are foolish enough to worry over it. "Worry killed a cat," and it can kill a human! Let's be sensible and not worry!

Answers To Health Queries

Jenny. Q.—Every morning upon arising my pillow is literally covered with hair, my hair coming out by the handfuls. What would you advise?

A.—The condition of the health in general has a decided bearing on the condition of the scalp and hair. Keep the scalp immaculately clean and usa a good stimulating hair tonic. The health in general should also have attention. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Mrs. O. B. M. Q.—What would cause a craving or appetite for roasted coffee and what effect would this have on the general health? 2—My little girl is troubled with enuresis and nothing seems to help. What would you suggest? 3—She will be six in December and measures 3 ft. 8 in. What should she weigh?

A.—Merely a habit; any habit is liable to cause nervousness. Try to overcome it.—For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. 3—She should weigh about 42 pounds.

Mrs. B. Q.—About three months ago I fell on my knee and noticed a swelling or lump a few weeks later. This is painless but it appears to be water. I am 60 years of age. What would you advise?

A.—Probably water on the knee; requires rest and strapping. Have your doctor look at the injury and prescribe the treatment you require.

Anxious. Q.—What will remove lines or wrinkles on the forehead?

A.—Gentle massage with the tips of the fingers and the use of a good cold cream should be helpful to some extent. The habit of raising the brows is usually responsible for lines and wrinkles in the forehead.

Mrs. J. H. J. Q.—What is good for excessive perspiration in the armpits? 2.—I have a small lump under the lower eyelid; while it does not seem to grow any larger, it makes the eye very red and inflamed. I have had it two years. What would you advise?

A.—Hot water compresses applied under the arms for half hour daily should check this trouble to a great extent. Excessive perspiration is often due to a nervous condition and the latter should be corrected. 2—See a doctor who will preseribe treatment after examination.

Burlington Junction

(J. Howard Thompson, Correspondent.)

Saturday, Nov. 20, is the date set for the annual bazaar, as planned by the Industrial Society of the Methodist Church. Great preparations are being made for the best bazaar in the history of the Church. Dinner and supper will be served to the general public on that day.

Burlington Junction is in the center of one of the best agricultural sections in all the State, if not the best, with the greatest possible opportunities for trade and prosperity. Unlike many other towns of its size, it is not crowded with other trade centers. With Tarkio, 18 miles to the west, Clarinda, 20 miles to the north and Maryville, 18 miles to the east, and no center of trade to the south, it has magnificent opportunities to become one of the most flourishing inland towns in all the land. Men and women of town, let's get busy and win.

One week from Tuesday is the general election, when the candidates for the various county and state offices, including one state senatorship will be filled. Most interest seems to be centering around the constitutional amendments. And unless great care is exercised, many mistakes will be made in marking the ballots. Permit me to suggest that the easiest way out of it is this. There are four amendments to be voted upon, and we want numbers one and two to win, and numbers three and four to be defeated. Therefore the simplest way to mark the ballot in this particular, is to scratch "No" on the first two, and scratch "Yes" on the last two, and no mistakes will be made.

Quite a number of our citizens went to Maryville Wednesday afternoon, to hear and meet Senator Williams, who spoke in the county seat town that afternoon. Among those we noticed in the crowd, were Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Sims, and others. The speaking was from the stage of the new theater. Many favorable comments were heard regarding the address.

Mr. and Mrs. John Vanderlinden returned early this week from a two months visit with friends and relatives in different sections of Iowa. While gone they visited in Milo, Pleasantville, Knoxville, Pershing, and Pella. They report having a most delightful time.

Our town had the distinction of having Senator Williams for a time Wednesday afternoon. Enroute from Maryville to Tarkio for the meeting at night, he stopped for a time here and met a number of our citizens, and gave a short address in which he urged the defeat of Proposition No. 4. He made a fine impression upon our town. He is a very congenial gentleman.

Henry Miller with his brother, C. O. Miller of Maryville, left Wednesday morning for Jefferson City, in C. O. Miller's car, for a visit of a few days with another brother, George Miller, who lives in that vicinity.

Thomas Graves, our townsman, who is patrolman on highway number 18, east of town, has put the dirt road leading up to the gravel five miles east of town, in first class shape in spite of the excessive rains of a few days ago. He seems to be the right man in the right place. The entire distance from here to Maryville is just like a paved road.

Mrs. Walter Boyer and her son, Fred, were in Maryville Wednesday afternoon, to hear Senator Williams and incidentally do a little shopping. They report highway number 18, west of town, in a very much improved condition. Patrolman Lester Crane has done a fine piece of work in keeping it in as good shape as he has under the circumstances. He is to be congratulated for his splendid service.

Prof. L. E. Ziegler, superintendent of the public schools in Maryville, will be in Burlington Junction Sunday night, and give an address in the Christian Church upon Proposition number four. The two churches will unite in this service. The general public is strongly urged to attend this service. Prof. Ziegler is a fine platform speaker.

The writer and his wife and the Rev. A. L. Ragsdale, attended the banquet Thursday night in Maryville, given by the Associated Industries of Missouri. The banquet was prepared and served by a Division of the Ladies Aid Society, of the Methodist Church of Maryville.

John Boyer, who suffered a compound fracture of his right leg at the ankle joint, is improving in fine shape, and the leg seems to be healing in a splendid way.

The writer with his wife and Miss Anna Walker spent the entire day, Friday, at the Edwin Caldwell farm, seven miles southwest of town, and had a most delightful day. Miss Marie Faust, with her sister, Cynthia, and brother, Samuel, are the home keepers for Mr. Caldwell, and these out-did themselves to make our stay a memorable one. Miss Cynthia's arm, which was broken some time ago, is about well again.

Burlington Junction is losing one of her best families in Otto Burris and family. Mr. Burris has disposed of his property here in town and will move to St. Joseph, and enter the employ for Block Brothers store. Prior to his coming to Burlington Junction, Mr. Burris worked for Block Brothers seven years. He is having a public sale this afternoon, preparatory to going to St. Joseph immediately.

Mr. and Mrs. Berry Hann entertained the young married people's club at their home in the east part of town, Wednesday evening of this week. There are only a half dozen couples of the younger set, who belong to the club, and all were present. After music and a few games, and a most delightful social time, refreshments were served.

The Wray Oil Co., has been doing a flourishing business in Burlington Junction, now for three years, and in honor of that event, they are celebrating today, (Saturday) by giving each customer an Eskimo Pie, who buys any of their products. The new management is doing a first class business.

Rev. J. Howard Thompson was in Quitman Friday night where he delivered an address before a very large crowd on proposition number four. He will go to Elmo tomorrow night, where he will deliver the address upon the same subject, before a union meeting of all the churches.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fleming entertained Mr. and Mrs. Everett Currie of Fairfax, Mo., and Park Fleming of St. Joseph, at their home in the southeast part of town last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Jones of Newton, Ia., were in town last week, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Smith. While here Mr. and Mrs. Smith entertained for them at dinner, with the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fleming and daughter Catherine, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Graves, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. George Bennett.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will entertain next Tuesday night at the hall on Main street. All Odd Fellows and their families in the community are most cordially invited.

Mr. S. W. Huckleberry, after a six weeks sojourn in the West, returned home this week. He visited relatives in Kansas, Utah and other western points aside from stopping off at various interesting places for sight seeing. His mother, Mrs. C. A. Huckleberry accompanied him, but remained over in Kansas for a longer visit. He reports things very dry in the West, in western Kansas it being too dry to sow wheat.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Carpenter had as their guests, Major and Mrs. Harold Murphy, of Vera Cruz, Mexico. The Major and his wife had been visiting relatives at Clearmont, and stopped over for a day at the Carpenter home to renew old acquaintance. He is employed by a large Sugar Refinery in the southern city at present.

Burlington Junction is to have the Federal Attorney for the Western District of the State of Missouri, Roscoe Patterson, as her guest Wednesday of next week, or October 27. While here he will give an address upon the political issues of the day. He is a fluent speaker and will doubtless give a fine address.

The following attended a surprise birthday dinner south of Maryville last Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Huston and daughter, Wilma, A. F. Stitt, Adolphus Giese, and Miss Anna Stitt. The dinner was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Kingery.

Frank Miller and his wife, living ten miles west of town, entertained at dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Miller and son, Billy, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Miller and son, Robert. Everett and Ray are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, and live on farms south of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Rogers north of town are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl, having come to their home on Wednesday of this week. Every one happy about the Kennard home.

Mrs. Anna Humphrey, and Miss Lucy Jones, sisters, were guests of relatives in Skidmore last Sunday.

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Profit taking forced all grain prices to a low close on the Chicago Board of Trade today. Wheat closed ⅞ to 1 cent off. Cash prices were ½ higher with only 1,000 bushels of export business reported.

Corn failed to top yesterday's close at any time during the session. The close was ¾ to 7-8 lower on the receipt of 225,000 bushels of old grains and heavy profit taking despite numerous bullish crop reports from various sections of the belt. Spot values were fairly steady.

Oats was rather active, May being as much as 1 cent higher at one time. However, the close was ¼ lower with the other cereals. There was no change in cash prices.

Provisions closed slightly higher.

EAD'S KICK WINS GAME

MARYVILLE BESTS SPRINGFIELD BY A 3 TO 0 SCORE.

IT WAS HARD FOUGHT

Ozark Grid Scene Of Tough Scrap Yesterday—Many "Saw" Game On W. L. Mayle's Electro-grid Here.

Captain Dave ("Ikey" Eads of the Bearcat team played only one down in the game at Springfield yesterday against the Southwest Missouri State Teachers College, but his place kick, which brought the Maryville Teachers 3 points, made in that one play, was responsible for Green and white sweatered team's win. The game was hard fought throughout, both teams scrapping to retain their 1.000 per cent standing toward the M. I. A. A. championship.

Plainly showing marks of a big scrap members of the Bearcat squad and their coaches returned to Maryville today at noon on the Burlington. They were met at the depot by more than a hundred football fans all of them joyous over yesterday's win.

The lone score came well along in the second quarter after the ball had been worked within a short distance of the goal but could not be put over for a touchdown. Eads substituted for O'Banion and was given the chance to make good. He made good at the try and was taken from the game so that his injured shoulder might not be hurt.

Maryville and Springfield have battled hard with few points scored in games played during the last three years. The Bears were defeated 3 to 0 in 1924 but were able to hold Maryville to a 3 to 3 tie last year.

Notwithstanding that Eads made the score winning the game for Maryville, much credit is to be given to Search who was able, time and again, when others failed, to make yardage for his team. His punts, too, were of substantial length, although Cherry, of Springfield, outpunted him.

Maryville will go to Kirksville for a game against the Teachers next week and, barring accidents on the practice field, Coach H. Frank Lawrence and his assistant, John Paul Jones should have a team that is in good condition for the fray. The Bearcats are half through with their conference schedule now with two games won and none lost. Besides Kirksville, the Warrensburg Teachers, considered by many to be the chief contender with Maryville for the championship, must be played.

While the Bearcats were fighting away the Bears several hundred College students and townspeople, who are football fans witness the game as interpreted by W. L. Maple's Electro-grid at the Missouri Theatre. By means of electric lights they were able to follow every play made by both teams and at the same time know who was carrying the ball. The apparatus proved highly successful and will be used again next week when the Bearcats play at Kirksville.

The game, play by play follows:

First Quarter.

Search kicked off to 25 yard line. Stark returned ball 15 yards to 40 yard line; Cherry no yards on fake punt; Springfield lost the ball on downs; Search punted 35 yards; Stark fumbled and Maryville recovered on Bears' 34 yard line. Maryville lost ball on downs. Tackle Hiett gained 2 yards; Stark circled left end for 5 yards; Cherry punted 25 yards to 28 yard line. Search made 5 yards around right end; Willoughby made 2 yards; Wilson gained one yard through line; Willoughby no gain; Search circled left end for 6 yards; Search made 2 yards through right tackle; Wilson hit right tackle for one yard, but Maryville was penalized 5 yards; fourth down on 28 yard line. O'Banion attempted drop kick from 40 yard line but it was blocked; Springfield took the ball. Tindall lost 5 yards around right end; Cherry made 5 yards; Stark made one yard and Maryville took time out for Cox. Tindall's nose was hurt and Springfield took time out for him; Cherry punted 45 yards to 18 yard line, where Ward stopped the ball. Willoughby lost one yard around end; Search punted 30 yards; Tindall downed on tracks on 37 yard line; Cherry fumbled and lost 5 yards; Cherry made 2 yards; Stark failed to gain around end; Cherry punted 40 yards over goal line. Maryville took ball on 20 yard line. O'Banion failed to gain; O'Banion punted 45 yards; Tindall fumbled and Hiett recovered on 35 yard line; Stark no gain on left tackle; Stark made 5 yards off right tackle; Maryville took time out for Berst; Stark no gain through center; Cherry punted 35 yards and Willoughby returned 10 yards to 30 yard line; both sides were off-side on first play; Search made 7 yards through center; O'Banion fumbled and lost 6 yards; Search punted 45 yards to 32 yard line; Stark failed to gain; Maryville penalized 5 yards; Stark failed to gain; Hiett dived through left tackle for 10 yards and first down on Springfield 44 yard line as quarter ended. Score, Maryville 0, Springfield 0.

Second Quarter.

Stater substituted for Stark and Abbott went to half back; Abbott went around left end for 5 yards; Tindall made one yard through center; Cherry failed to gain; Cherry punted 50 yards out of bounds on 7 yard line. Wilcox replaced Hiett at fullback; Search punted 30 yards; Tindall fumbled and Maryville recovered on 30 yard line; Wilson failed to gain; Search circled left end for 8 yards; Willoughby made 5 yards but Erwin was off side, Maryville penalized 5 yards; Willoughby made one yard through center; fourth down and 6 yards to go; Search punted 45 yards; Abbott downed on 13 yard line; Cherry punted 45 yards; O'Banion downed in midfield; Willoughby failed to gain through center; Willoughby made 8 yards off left tackle; Search made 3 yards and first down on 36 yard line; Wilson made one yard; Search lost one yard through right tackle; Search, no gain around left end; O'Banion passed 20 yards from fake drop kick formation, Search caught ball on 15 yard line, where he was downed; Willoughby made 4 yards off left tackle; Search made four yards more through line; Wilson made first down on 6 yard line; Wilson made 2 yards; Maryville took time out for Graham; O'Banion made one yard more; Search made 2 yards—third down, one yard to go; Wilcox downed O'Banion on an attempted end run and he lost 3 yards—fourth down, on 5 yard line; Eads replaced O'Banion; Eads tried place kick from 10 yard line; it was good; Graham replaced Eads; Maryville, 3, Springfield 0. If Your Car Ever Slips on a muddy road it might result in a very great disaster.

Football coaches safeguard against their men slipping on muddy fields by equipping them with the best and surest cleats obtainable.

Congratulations Bearcats on your well earned victory.

Experienced automobile drivers have found it good policy to consider a life more valuable than a game and therefore guard against slips with the best chains they can buy.
